MICROMONEY

MicroMoney for people & Big Data for business

Global problem

1

2 billion people in the world use only cash

Getting a loan is a huge problem for them, because they do not have credit histories.

2

Turnover of a billion dollars is not involved in the global economy

Banks and other financial institutions refuse to deal with such people, because it is considering as risky and expensive.

But, people need money and business need new customers

Our solution

1st Blockchain Credit Bureau and Transparent Social Microfinance.

MicroMoney is a global fintech blockchain company and lending services provider, embodying the access to financial services for unbanked people on emerging markets and the access to the emerging markets' audience for banks, trade, and financial organizations.
